

What should you do?

An old lady approaches you in a playground and asks you to come and look at the puppies in the back of her car. You love puppies.
What should you do?

A man who says he knows your older brother offers you an ice-cream.
What should you do?

Your Mum is in the shower and you are watching TV when the doorbell rings.
What should you do?

It's home time and your mum has not arrived to pick you up from school.
All of your friends have left. You are getting upset.
What should you do?

You are at a fair and a young woman offers you a stuffed toy that she won on one of the side shows. You don't know her but she looks friendly.
What should you do?

You are at a busy shopping centre with your family and suddenly you can't see any of them.
You are lost and start to panic.
What should you do?